

Professionals You Can Trust

Recommended by Professionals

Each year thousands of Realtors, lenders, lawyers and other real estate professionals across the United States and Canada refer their customers to National Property Inspections for quality, reliable, unbiased residential and commercial inspections.

To experience the service that inspires so many professional referrals, contact your local NPI inspector today to ask questions, obtain a quote or schedule your inspection.

Visit our website at www.npiweb.com and click on Find an Inspector.

Since 1987, National Property Inspections has promoted honest, professional and impartial inspections. Our independent inspectors work hard to help clients make an informed purchasing decision.

NPI is proud to be among the oldest and most widely respected names in the industry. Every NPI inspector has the expertise and experience necessary to assess the condition of a property from roof to foundation and relate the findings to the client.

Professional, Timely Inspection Reports

NPI inspectors provide clients with state-of-the-art, computer-generated reports that clearly explain the inspection results. Our reports are a combination of narrative and checklist formats for a thorough, easy-to-read evaluation of a home. Reports are delivered in a timely manner, and inspectors are available to answer questions.

Insurance for Peace of Mind

Each NPI inspector is required to maintain errors and omissions (E&O) and general liability insurance. This protects clients and referring agents, giving everyone greater peace of mind. When you work with NPI, you are working with a true professional

On-target Technical Training

NPI's experienced faculty members educate each NPI professional in all aspects of property inspection. Training is based on nationally accepted industry standards and ethics. Inspectors then experience extensive hands-on training in the field with carefully selected mentors.

Accurate Technical Support

Every inspection is different. That's why NPI inspectors have technical support available every day of the week. Whether they're on the roof or in a crawl space, our inspectors can communicate by phone with technical support to obtain reliable information. This provides the client with the most thorough inspection possible, in a timely, efficient manner.
